

SUCCESSFUL GRANT WRITING

Nonprofits

March 16-17, 2009

Helping you to be successful

March 16-17, a grant-writing workshop was completed with members of nonprofit organizations. Twelve individuals representing varied nonprofit organizations participated in the March 16-17 workshop designed for those with intermediate to advanced grant-writing skills. The workshop program included practice writing exercises. Evaluation forms were completed by eleven of the participants.

Complimentary comments about the program included:

- So appropriate to my level...my needs.
- Best program – the light bulb went on as to how all aspects fit together.
- It is better than any other grant writing I have taken...even better than Duke.
- Way cheaper for better information.
- Exercises. It was a “hands-on” workshop.
- It was equal or better than previous experiences.
- Presenter explained everything very well – made complicated material much easier to understand.
- Thank you for an excellent training session. The goals, objectives and performance measure portion was invaluable to me.

Evaluation Results

	This program presented ideas that were useful to me.	The presenters were knowledgeable and presented the material well.	The two-day length of the program was appropriate.*	The program presented the level of detail I expected.	Materials (CD, $MTM Guidebook, PowerPoint) and handouts were useful.
Excellent	8	7	5	6	8
Very Good	3	4	3	5	2
Excellent+Very Good	11 100%	11 100%	8 73%	11 100%	10 91%
Average	--	--	2	--	--
Poor	--	--	--	--	--
Does Not Apply	--	--	--	--	--
No Response	--	--	1	--	1

* Note: The two individuals rating the two-day length of the program “Average” indicated they wanted an extra day for more practice.
